

A Baby' Perspective

Dear Tasha and David,

My mum and I would like to wish you a most pleasant holiday in this time when the nights grow longer and the fire is warm.

Thank you both for helping my mum to occupy herself more fully. She is not afraid to allow her external context to reflect accurately her internal context. This is great because she is teaching me that all of my feelings are to be respected and honoured. She is also teaching me about inhibition and poise. When I have finished drinking her milk I gaze up at her quietly and thoughtfully and our souls meet through our eyes. Life is so rich and satisfying!

Blessings to you in the New Year

Love,
Tom
